"At a conference held here Wednesday between Gen. William E. Mickle, of New Orleans, adjutant general of the United Confederate veterans, and Gen. Clement A. Evans, commander in chief, it was decided that the next national reunion of the U. C. V.'s should be held on June 8, 9 and 10. Memphis, Tenn., had already been selected as the place of the reunion.

"Besides fixing these dates, General Evans and General Mickle discussed many matters of interest and importance to the Confederate veterans. It was General Mickle's opinion that Atlanta is the next logical meeting point for the reunion after that at Memphis. From what he has heard and observed in traveling through the different camps, he believes that Atlanta will be selected without discussion should she see fit to extend an invitation. It is likely that the local and state camps will immediately inaugurate a movement that will end in bringing the next convention here.
